Bethelites Can Aid Travelers

This is the season when local people seem surprised at the predicament of many vacationists who stray from their chosen path at one of the several entrances to Bethel village. The fact that the more traveled routes are well marked is a great help to the greater number, but due to the layout of the village with numbered routes at the four corners there is some reason for bewilderment.

Although the information center is located near the town's busiest corner and many motorists are advised and set right at this point, it behooves all interested Bethelites to know their town and be able to answer correctly the more simple appeals for direction and distances. Comparatively few communities are placed on four numbered routes as Bethel is, a fact which should simplify the task of instruction and advice. However all too many are heedless of these simple travel aids and attempt to direct by the crude methods of another age.

Bethel village is the northern terminus of Route 35, leading to Kennebunkport 91.8 miles away. Route 5 (South Arm to Old Orchard Beach) passes through the village up Church Street, down Mill Hill and via Songo Pond to Lynnhaven, East Stoneham and the Lovells. Route 2 crossing New England from Burlington, Vt., to Houlton, Maine, touches the village at the foot of Church Street. Route 26 (Portland to Colebrook, N. H.) goes the length of Railroad St. and coincides with Routes 2 and 5 between Bethel and Newry Corner.

A Few Routes and Distances
Eastern points on Route 2 are marked north as that route leaves Bethel in a northerly direction.

Plan Fourth Bazaar Here Sat., Aug. 2

The fourth Annual Bazaar will be held on Saturday, August 2, on the Bethel Common. There will be an auction at 10:00 A. M. at the Community Room and the fire station. Other events of the day will include Pitch 'n' Win, Penny Toss, Beano, Raffles, Novelties, plenty of places to buy soft drinks, and lunches, hamburgs, hot dogs, candy, home cooked foods; Baseball game at 2 p. m., the parade at 5 p. m. with prizes for all, Bike and Trike races and contests for all the boys and girls immediately after the big parade, and a puppet show for children and grown-ups too, at 8 p. m.

Come and help make this the biggest and best bazaar that Bethel has ever had. Remember that the proceeds this year are for the Community Room, the children's 4th of July celebration and the town's share is for equipment at the town's schools to make them better than ever for our youngsters.

All organizations and persons taking part in any way at the Bazaar are asked to attend the final planning meeting to be held at the American Legion Rooms on Monday evening, at 7:30 p. m.

P. T. A. AUCTION

At the bazaar meeting held Tuesday evening, it was decided that the PTA would hold the auction this year on Saturday morning, Aug. 2nd, around 10 a. m.

We already have a good start on items being donated. This auction is not an auction of antiques or unwanted junk, but an auction of everyday useful articles, such as preserve jars, cooking utensils, furniture that you may be tired of looking at, tools, clothing or even foodstuffs. Of course antiques have their place in it too, but not entirely.

These auctions are fun, and the demand for one this year has been very great, so please donate generously as the proceeds go for a very worthy and charitable cause.

Someone in your area or on your street will be detached to solicit and trucks will collect the latter part of the week. It will bring your donations yourself, which helps a lot for they may be left in the Community Rooms or on the porch, and it will be stored until Aug. 2. If it happens that you are overlooked and would like to donate, please call Marjorie Freeman and you will be taken care of.

Again, please let's all donate and have fun Saturday morning besides helping a worthy cause.

Mrs. Alton Carroll and son Leo have returned from a visit with relatives in Massachusetts.

Miss Mabel Young of Madisonville, Que., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Saunders.

Cpl. Erland Gerber, who has been stationed at Okinawa, is at home spending a 30 day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamlin and children of Falmouth Forester were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young and children returned home Sunday from Old Orchard Beach, where they spent three weeks.

Dr. John Cornell and wife, Dr. Betty Cornell of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending some time at the Songo Pond camp. Their guests are Dr. Vera Indestler and Miss Elaine Walker, R. N. of the Lancaster Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Benke, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hastings, Kimball Ames and the Misses Macy and Catherine Carter attended the bankers' meeting at Lakewood Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Herzog and children are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Donahue. Mrs. Herzog and family will leave Westover Field Tuesday morning for Agents Newbold and Mrs. Herzog is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

SWIM CLASSES

The swimming classes have been so popular that the bus is crowded to capacity with those whom it is transporting to classes. This transportation is a privilege not to be abused, as are all the facilities of the program.

At a special meeting of the Branch Chairmen in South Paris Monday night to plan the 1953 budget the high cost of the entire chapter's water program was under fire. Because the towns failed to meet their quota last March the classes may have to be curtailed. It was the consensus of opinion that at least all transportation should be arranged by the parents and not be a charge on the Red Cross. In our own Branch the cost of the bus has been generously donated. Our only expense is the cost of its operation and it is hoped this will be contributed to by some organization.

Under the direction of Alma Young the Beach Patrol for the week of July 28 is: Monday—Alley Peachey and Esther Brown; Tuesday and Thursday—Elsie Waldron, Elsie Davis and Alma Young; Wednesday—Eva Perry and Esther Brown; Friday—Alley Peachey and Alma Young.

These good ladies keep an eye on the Bethel children not at the moment under instruction without assuming any strict responsibility. Locke Mills folks have failed several times to provide a patrol for their children but it is hoped their interest will be sufficient to correct this unfair situation.

CPL. NEWELL NOW ATTENDING ARMY SCHOOL

Corporal Linwood C. Newell, Jr., Bethel, Maine, assigned to the 47th "Viking" Infantry Division station at Camp Rucker, Ala., now is attending an Army school.

Corporal Newell is attending the on-post Unit Chemical Defense School. He is assigned to F Company of the 13th Infantry Regiment.

He has been training with the Viking Division which was called into active service in January 1951. The 47th, a Minnesota North Dakota National Guard Division now is composed of men from all 48 states and three territories. Last Spring the unit participated in Exercise Long Horn, Joint Army and Air Force training maneuvers in Texas.

POULTRY, DAIRY SCHOOLS SCHEDULED IN NEXT WEEK

Three agricultural schools will be held in the next week in Maine. The fifth annual Poultry Flock Selecting School will be held Tuesday and Friday, July 24 and 25. The third annual Training School for Artificial Breeding Techniques will be conducted at Orono July 24, 25 and 26 and at the Maine Coon Farm near Augusta, July 24 and August 1 and 2. County judges will take part in Green Pasture Judging Schools July 24 at Roy Blake's farm in Bethel and July 25 at Alvin Lindsay and Sons farm in Carroll.

STATE DAIRY SHOW SLATED NEXT SATURDAY, AUGUST 2

More than 500 outstanding dairy animals and several thousand spectators are expected to attend the annual State Dairy Show at Windward Fair Grounds next Saturday, August 2, starting at 10 a. m. Well known judges will place the adult animals on both type and production, while the younger animals and the Guernseys will be judged on type alone. Everyone is welcome without charge. Refreshments will be served by the Kennebec County 4-H Leaders' Association. This is THE Big Dairy Show of the year. Come and bring the family and friends.

Importance of Air Lookouts Emphasized

The 24-hour-a-day surveillance of the skies for enemy aircraft went into effect on Monday, July 14. Of Maine's 247 Ground Observation Post only 30 percent were in operation to pass along reports of possible sneak attacks by multi-engine bombers.

Twenty-seven Northeastern and Great Lakes States are affected by the operation which was ordered by the U. S. Air Force to "fill in the gaps" in our radar defense network.

Brig Gen Spaulding Bisbee, Maine's Civil Defense and Public Safety Director, has called for an additional five thousand civilian volunteers to man the post. Approximately five thousand volunteers had been recruited prior to the opening of the operation. Many posts which could function on a part-time basis hesitate to operate on less than a 24-hour schedule. "This is a mistake," the General said. "Even if a post can be manned for only six hours a day, such activities increase the protection the nation receives."

Intelligence reports that more than four hundred long range bombers, each capable of carrying the atom bomb, are poised and ready to take off from Soviet bases, gave impetus to the program. According to the State Civil Defense Office, no one knows when the signal will be given, but the United States can not afford to be taken by surprise.

"Operation Skywatch" is a continuing exercise. The report from even one observation post may be the means of saving hundreds of thousands of lives.

Men and women and high school boys and girls who wish to volunteer for from two to four hours duty each week should get in touch with their local civil defense director. Town and city officials can also advise the volunteer group or individual to contact.

General Bisbee has reminded the people of Maine that the first attack could well be the last. A successful surprise attack might well destroy the American industrial production to a minimum and destroy our ability to fight our enemies. Many observation posts are our first line of air defense.

LOCAL OBSERVATION POST STILL UNDERSTAFFED

The observation post in Bethel, located in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vahway, is still understaffed. Anyone unable to secure transportation may call Central Taxi at the expense of the Civil Defense Office and extra hours are posted in the observation post.

As yet officials have not announced the reason for this. Twenty-seven states have been ordered to man their posts for an indefinite period. There are still thirty four vacancies on the schedule. Anyone wishing to volunteer for one of these please contact Raymond Dexter. The present schedule of volunteer observers is shown on page 4.

The Week in Oxford County

Cadet Lieut. Clyde E. Kerr of Rumford-Mexico Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has gone to Rio de Janeiro as a representative from Maine in an international Cadet Exchange program conducted by the U. S. Air Force.

Senator Henry W. Boyker of Bethel was guest speaker at the annual reunion of teachers and students of Miss Fells school in Naples Sunday. He spoke on State Government. Senator Boyker, independent candidate for Governor, was a teacher in Naples for six years, superintendent of their schools and town treasurer.

Harold McInnes of Mexico was presented a certificate Monday for 25 years service as agent for the London and Scottish Assurance Company Ltd.

Over 150 people attended the Waterford Rug Exhibit Wednesday at the Wilkins Community House. Roy E. Farmer of Norway was uninjured when his car hit a soft shoulder on the Norway Lake road Saturday evening.

Monday night, Earle Pease of Norway, Miss Jean Eklund and Alfred Labrecque were treated for injuries when their car sideswiped one tree then smashed head-on into another on Route 56 near Norway.

Four members of the Cooper family were honored at the meeting of Buckfield Grange Monday evening. Mrs. Estelle Cooper, 91 years a member, her son, Fred Cooper, 55 years service, her daughter, Mrs. Effie Churchill, 50 years service, and her grandson, Kenneth Cooper, Master of Buckfield Grange.

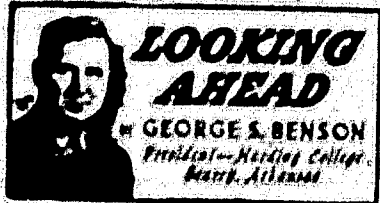

Mrs. Easter Peters, for the past three years pastor of the Rumford Point and Ramford Center churches, has been elected to replace Rev. C. J. Salisbury, who has resigned from the Andover Congregational church.

Conspiracy Exposed!

It is not easy to accept the reality of an international conspiracy working secretly in America to capture all of us and make us prisoners of an iron-fisted and brutal dictatorship. Even after the New York court conviction of the 11 Communist leaders, the sensational Alger Hiss exposure and conviction and the recent series of books by ex-Communists, it is still difficult for the average citizen to fully realize that the Communist conspiracy inside America is real, not fictional.

That's because most of us in a sense live in a small world in the midst of our personal activities. What we read and get out of our feet is far away. It simply doesn't touch us. Our lives have not been personally touched so far by the Communist conspirators although our future has certainly been affected. Even President Truman himself labeled as a "red baiting" charge by some of his political opponents that Communist conspirators were working inside important departments of the Federal government. Later Hiss and others were exposed and convicted.

Headlining the Public

The Communist Party of the U.S.A. wish to keep as many Americans as possible thinking that the Communist Party in America is harmless. If all America should come to realize the full facts of the conspiracy, the Communist Party would become extremely unpopular for Communist Party and foreign travelers. The Party would be almost completely isolated. The Communist Party have initiated many of the same tactics and other Communist Party groups to spread propaganda, hoping to keep the public misinformed about the conspiracy. They have succeeded in getting widely circulated publications and commentators to denounce individuals and organizations who are working to expose the Communist Party and its dupes.

The Communist Party of the U.S.A. is the most dangerous force in the world today. The Communist Party is the only force in the world today that is capable of conquering the United States. DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING

The Help of a Wife

TOP SERGEANT Sam A. Chambers, Oklahoma City, Okla., says that he discovered what is the most important thing in life to a man. He doesn't worry about the little troubles that come into his daily life; he just does the best he can with them, holding to a deep abiding faith in God and believing in his own ability to look out for himself and his family.

Not that he thinks himself perfect; not that he doesn't often fall far short of his aims; not that he doesn't fail woefully at times. But he tries to practice the rules of Christian living as laid down by what he terms "the world's only perfectionist," Jesus Christ. He pays his debts, tries to keep on good terms with his neighbors, and to give the best in him to his job. And by the law of average, he usually "gets his" and he refuses to worry.

Now, what do you think is the one outstanding contribution to his lack of worry? It is cheerful, helpful Mrs. Sam Chambers. When Sam is faced with a problem, he doesn't have to fight it topped with a wife's antagonism and derision. His wife believes in him, knows he will win, or if by some chance he doesn't, she knows he will do even better next time, and usually he does. Two of them to face his problems, not one fighter plus a bitter discouraging opponent.

So, says Sam, he has learned that the most important thing in the world to a man is his family, and their attitude toward him. If his wife and two little girls continue to think well of him, he will always be inspired to do his best. If they think he is a pretty fine fellow, it may keep him on his toes, but he's going to do his mighty hard at being what they think he is.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

Time was when $10,000 a year was a lot of money. Only the relative few earned or had a reasonable hope of earning as much. Even nowadays, with record taxes and a four-bit dollar, it is far more than most families ever see, the average income being in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Yet there is a $10,000-a-year class of people in this country who simply can't make both ends meet, economist as they will. That, at least, is the theme of a fascinating article in the July issue of Harvard Business Review, a magazine called "Going Broke in 1950 a Year" which is signed with the pseudonym Jay Taylor. This class consists of junior business executives who must put up a front, appear to live well, keep up appearances, entertain as part of their jobs, and donate generously to charities and other worthy causes. Mr. Taylor writes early in his article "I'm a symbol and a statistic. I'm a symbol of the group from which business leaders are to be drawn, a group now being liquidated"

Mr. Taylor goes into meticulous detail as to his finances, and it's quite a story. Last year, he wrote, he earned $10,450 and spent $10,450. And here, in capsule form, is what happened to his money. To get the full flavor of the account, of course, the whole article should be read.

First of all he actually got not $10,450 but $9,978, taxes having accounted for the difference. His first outgo was for rent—$1,656. This, he says, is about as little as he could pay without moving to so cheap a neighborhood that he would lose contact with his associates and endanger future promotions.

Several hundred dollars went out for unavoidable household expenses such as utilities, and his wife got $2,042, or some $40 a week, to buy the food and other supplies needed by a family of four. Furniture swallowed $274 and insurance $43. Mr. Taylor has no car and says he can't possibly afford one, but computation tells us that he is scheduled to go up in price.

Factor and dentist accounted for $204, and the children's expenses, such as their clothes and school books and a summer camp day in to the tune of $241. He and his wife spent only $173 on clothing for themselves. Gifts and holiday expenses totaled around $500, all told there was a miscellaneous item of $364, which included

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Everson, Wash., News: "There seems to be a question whether the U. S. Government can claim anything their bureaucratic heads desire to claim as their own. They seem to control our rivers and streams despite our court decisions. They grant power dams against our best interests; tell us whether we need more aluminum plants to cause a power shortage; whether we have to keep our fishing industry; one of our best natural resources or let an appointee of the President regulate our economy. We have watched their domination of the power industry to the detriment of private enterprise and the best interest of our citizens."

International Falls, Minn., Daily Journal: "Production per man in our five times what it was at the beginning of the century. The reason, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, lies in the increased use of machinery that speeds production. Such machinery requires capital investments and such investment can come only out of earnings."

BY LITTLE HULL

THE AMBITIONS of our union leaders seem limitless. Their intent appears obvious; by forcing the union upon upon the American worker, these dictators would make it impossible for any free worker to hold a job in unionized industries. When this is accomplished they will double their efforts to unionize the free workers in all lines of industry, business, farming and government. Once they "get the ball rolling" they can probably accomplish this.

Then what? With 50 or 60 million members plus wives they can dictate to any one running for local or national office, just what his policies are to be. In fact they can legally take over our government and pass laws to nationalize our sources of production. This they accomplished in England and in five years time destroyed the economy of that nation and impoverished its people. Less ambitious men might have pulled England out of the hole, but those who rise too suddenly seem nearly always to succumb to the bait of personal aggrandizement—and "the public be damned."

Have we enough dangerous external troubles without being threatened with economic destruction at the hands of a few men whose power over the rest of us has reached alarming proportions? There are ways to contain the selfish plans of these labor leaders. The most effective would be to pass laws forbidding industry-wide bargaining and the power to force free workers by hook or crook into the unions. The Taft-Hartley law checked these leaders to some extent, but if it is not invoked by the President, of what use is it if that law were invoked in the steel strike the workers would have the right to vote upon whether or not to continue that destructive strike.

Now we see that the role would be overwhelming to go back to work. These men don't want a union shop, and they don't want their wages and the chance to help our men in Korea whose position is going to be endangered if the strike continues. Let's hope it is over by the time this reaches the press.

such odds and ends as such contributions, wood, bushes and bulbs for the garden.

So it goes, in Mr. Taylor's summation—everything is accounted for down to the penny, save $133 for which he has no records. None of the items of expenditure seem at all high for a man in his position, many of them seem almost amazingly low.

Mr. Taylor's conclusion is typical of the tone of his article: "So I speak as one small symbol of a class. I look at the broken down occasional chair which should have been replaced a year ago. I postpone my trip to the dentist for another six months in hopes that the pediatrician's bill can be paid in the interval. And I realize that I belong to a new class of forgotten men in whom no labor leaders, politicians, farmers, corporation presidents, or commencement speakers take any vested interest — the $10,000-a-year men, Vanquished Americans."

AN EDITORIAL entitled "Hiding Behind a Screen," the Berlin Reporter, Berlin, N.Y., had this to say recently concerning freedom of the press:

"The 'freedom of the press' is one of the fundamental rights of a free people but is not an exclusive possession of the press.

"For this reason, it is important for the people of this country to understand what the phrase means. It is certainly apparent that some newspaper men have the idea that it extends immunity to the press in a manner that far transcends the right to print articles without censorship or penalty other than those represented by libel laws.

"The freedom of the press does not relieve the press of its obligation to pay taxes, to adjust employment according to the laws of the land and to comply with regulations issued to protect the nation in an emergency. Neither is it a cloak to conceal the facts about the ownership of publications, in violation of the law that requires disclosure of ownership."

Diminishing Returns

From the Evening Journal, Washington, Iowa:

"Concern over the tax problem lies largely in the fact that the law of diminishing returns has set in. Put federal taxes up another notch and the increase probably won't produce any more revenue. . . . Business can be taxed out of business. And that is precisely what is beginning to happen. The process can kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, and the tax goose is beginning to look pale around its eyes. Moderation in all things, says the sages. This applies to taxes, as well as cayenne pepper or chocolate candy."

Private Enterprise

From the Evening Banner, Greenville, Texas:

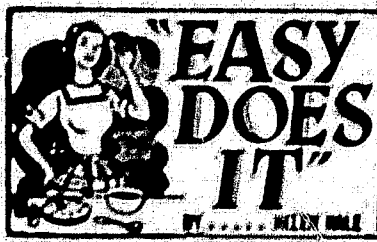

"It is not our purpose to rush to the defense of the private power companies, or to plead the cause of public power operations. But we think the people are intelligent enough to decide what they want and what they do not want. And we are convinced that private enterprise has made this country as great as it is."

EASY DOES IT

AN ORDINARY paint brush will do an excellent job of dusting on furniture if it has especially intricate carving and decoration on it. Keep the brush just for this purpose, and tuck it into the cleaning basket so it's handy.

To prevent gloss from coming off white paint, wash with milk and only a little bit of soap.

Every once in a while, it's a good idea to dissolve a lump of salt in the kitchen sink. It keeps it sanitary.

Go over your radiators every once in a while with an oil cloth.

RECIPES OF THE WEEK

Summer Party Pudding
(Serves 6-8)

1 1/2 cups apricot whole fruit nectar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Few grains salt
1 envelope plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1/2 cup cubed, canned pineapple
1 can sliced banana
1 cup cream, whipped
Dash 5th spice nectar, sugar, lemon juice and salt, beat just below boiling. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot nectar. Chill to consistency of unwhipped egg whites. Soften cheese in remaining 1/4 cup nectar. Blend with thickened nectar-gelatin mixture, adding banana and pineapple. Fold in whipped cream. Chill until firm.

This will prevent them from rusting.

If you have a bad scratch on a piece of furniture, rub a piece of meat into this, then go over the spot with furniture polish. Polish well, and you'll hardly be able to see the scratch.

Turn your rug around a couple of times every year and you'll find it wears evenly, and this will ward off spots.

Refrigerator cutlery with wood handles should not be allowed to soak in dish water or running water. This loosens them and also causes them to crack. Hang in a rack and you'll prevent cracked blades and bent points.

Newsville, Iowa, Express: "Our government experts say that many of our countries could be made more self-sufficient by raising the production of such crops as cotton, corn, wheat, soybeans, and other food crops. They say that if we could produce more of these crops, we could save a great deal of money in the purchase of foreign goods."

STATE PAYING $1,000,000 ON FEDERAL DEFICIT

Maine taxpayers will eventually pay about $1,000,000 as their share of the $12,000,000,000 deficit resulting from the failure of the President and Congress to cut Federal spending for 1953 to the limits of expected Federal income. The Maine State Chamber of Commerce recently released this estimate after adding the share on Congressional action on money bills.

The State Chamber figured that the Federal Government will spend a total of $1,000,000,000 next year which is $1,000,000,000 less than the President proposed to spend in the budget he submitted in January. With 1953 revenues expected in a recent Congressional estimate to run about $28,500,000, the deficit would be $12,500,000,000.

Although Congress cut a total of $1,000,000,000 from the President's appropriation requests of $12,500,000,000 this action will have only a limited effect upon Federal expenditures in 1953 because some of the money would not have been paid out anyway until 1954 or later.

The State Chamber praised the refusal of the kind Congress to approve a number of controversial new spending programs which would have boosted 1953 expenditures and committed the Government to pay out even larger sums in later years. The Chamber said:

"Although Congress made a valiant effort to cut down the size of the whopping deficit anticipated to the President's 1953 budget, the modest reduction which is finally achieved was far less than advocates of economy had hoped for."

It has been demonstrated once again that it is an almost impossible task for Congress alone to make large reductions in the Federal budget and then make them stick, especially if the Chief Executive is apathetic to the need for economies and even makes a virtue of big spending."

Disparages are the principal crop in Maine's coastal counties of Lincoln, Knox, Hancock and Washington.

Thursday afternoon the village was quite excited for a short time by a fire which if not discovered in its early stage would doubtless have been of great damage. A lighted match was thrown down and fire started in the grass back of the Ronald Ross building and Association Block. The fire was discovered by James Todd—quickly some telephone men appeared and the fire company and the fire was extinguished. Miss Agnes L. Gray's rosebushes were badly damaged and one or two trees, just as long as men get drunk, there will be lighted matches and cigarette stubs on fire thrown around and people's lives endangered, nothing but destruction ever came of liquor.

Mrs. Lena Swift is housekeeping and caring for Mrs. Georgena Richardson's four children all under the age of six years.

Albert Hammond, who boards with Mrs. Eva Hill fell Thursday afternoon and broke his arm near the shoulder.

Mrs. Nellie Bryant has gone to Mrs. Roy F. Perham's, R. N., for rest and care.

Not enough young apple trees are planted each year in Maine to replace those that are growing old. Rural people in Maine are greatly interested in repairing and remodeling their homes and in securing modern equipment, report the home demonstration agents of the Maine Extension Service.

A county Agricultural agent, a home demonstration agent, and a 4-H club agent are located at each county Extension Service office in Maine. They serve the people of the county through educational programs.

"Cocktail?"

(He: "She'll think I'm a sad sack if I say no!")
(She: "I don't want it, but what will be think?")

Do you have to drink, when you're out on a date or a party?

You might think so, to read some advertisements or listen to some radio shows.

Millions of dollars in liquor propaganda are saturating the public with the idea that drinking is socially indispensable.

Smartly dressed men and women, in lavish surroundings, eagerly consume the advertiser's product. Handsome athletes, beautiful girls, even grandmothers try hard to push the public into believing that everyone drinks. Text and commercials imply that alcohol is safe as milk.

But what are the facts?

Actually, liquor is far from the benevolent product that its manufacturers would have you believe. Most people, including those who drink, know that alcohol often causes irreparable harm. It is a depressant, not a stimulant. One out of twenty drinkers becomes an alcoholic.

Why not determine your attitude toward drinking from your viewpoint—not from the viewpoint of those who profit by what you drink? It is a fact that alcohol cannot help you attain health, happiness, or financial security. It is a fact that alcohol can easily cause you to miss out on these. Why be misled by propaganda to the contrary?

For the fact is, again, that drinking is not essential socially, or otherwise. You can get along fine without it. And you need never hesitate to say, "No, thanks, I don't drink." You'll be thought the better of, and feel better, for saying so.

You can get along fine without it!
